Book Description

Forty-year-old, never-married Eva Liles desires matrimony and motherhood. And even though she lives a short distance from Raleigh, North Carolina, where she works and spends time socially, she remains unlucky at love in a city nationally ranked as one of the top ten places for singles.

When she meets the handsome Xavier Dupree, he seems to have everything that she would want in a mate except one thing . . . he's currently incarcerated as a first-time felon. In Eva's mind involving herself in a relationship with him would signal sheer desperation -- settling in the worse way.

When her church's most notorious gossip catches wind of her love interest, Eva has one of two choices to make...embrace Xavier and endure ridicule and embarrassment or deny her heart the love it's always longed for.

Reviews

"A page-turner from the start. It has humor, suspense--I could not put it down!"
- Linda (Rocky Mount, NC)

"Titillating and vivacious . . ." - Joe (Raleigh, NC)

"Great storyline! Riveting characters!" - Priscilla (Richmond, VA)

"Intriguing---keeps you wanting more." - R.J. (St. Louis, MO)

"A good read. Well-written!" - Ken (Manhattan, NY)
